

Newsletter for Fifth Asia Regional MMR Conference

Fifth Asia Regional MMR Conference and the 6th Annual China MMR Conference were successfully held from 8th-10th September, 2023 in Beijing, China. John W. Creswell and Siyan Zhan were the presidents of this conference.

John W. Creswell and Loraine Cook gave the wonderful and highly interactive workshops on the first whole day, titled of Steps in Planning and Conducting a Qualitative Study, and Considerations for Writing a Research Proposal for a Mixed Methods Dissertation, respectively.

On the conference, John W. Creswell took the keynote speech of Mapping 35-year Developments in MMR. Senior scientists from China presented about myths and clarifications of qualitative research, MMR in medicine, education and sociology.

Loraine Cook provided an overview of the MMIRA, while representatives from the Japan, Korea, Philippines, and China introduced the current status and challenges of MMR in their respective countries.

There were three sessions for medicine, sociology, and education discussing the application of MMR, as well as a closed-door discussion, providing insights and suggestions on opportunities, challenges, organizational structure in China.

In general, through workshops, keynote speeches, studies exchanges, and closed-door discussion, the conference provided opportunities for in-depth communication and collaboration among experts, promoting the development of MMR in multidisciplinary among Asian countries.
